GRADUATE NURSES

GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Large Audience Attended the Exercises at Library Hall Last Evening—Dr. Pembler Delivered Address.
There was a large response to the invitations issued by the Sisters of Mercy for the training school graduation exercises at library hall last evening and an attentive and deeply interested audience followed the program from beginning to end. There were appropriate readings by Mrs. Janet H. Day; vocal selections by the Milton College glee quartet; and Dr. J. P. Pembler delivered an earnest and thoughtful address. Dr. G. C. Waide presented the diplomas to Miss Elizabeth Eleanor Taylor and Miss Blanche Toews. The training school work is under the able supervision of Miss Kelly and the physicians of the city co-operate with her in maintaining thorough methods and such a high standard of instruction that a diploma is a guarantee of extraordinary efficiency.

Engineer Kennedy and Fireman Procter went out this morning on No. 162 with engine 1694.

LEAGUE BASEBALL RESULTS.

Chicago's double victory over New York on the latter's home grounds Tuesday brought the leaders down to within six points of their formidable western rivals for the National league pennant. The winning of Wednesday's game by Chicago would put that club in the lead in the race. Pittsburgh dropped back a bit, as compared with Chicago, by winning but one game to the latter club's two, but gained materially on New York.

Cleveland drew further ahead in the American league race, again defeating New York, while Detroit was once more beaten by Boston. Chicago and St. Louis did not play, and the former team is now but one point behind Detroit.

The standing of the clubs in the two leagues follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
Clubs	Won	Lost	Per Cent.
New York	51	53	.493
Chicago	52	52	.500
Pittsburgh	48	56	.458
Philadelphia	47	57	.450
Cincinnati	47	57	.450
Boston	43	61	.413
Brooklyn	41	63	.394
St. Louis	40	64	.385
AMERICAN LEAGUE.
Cleveland	52	49	.512
Detroit	49	52	.485
Chicago	48	53	.475
St. Louis	47	54	.463
Philadelphia	45	56	.444
Boston	44	57	.435
Washington	40	61	.396
New York	39	62	.387

In runs, hits and errors the baseball games played on Tuesday resulted as follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.
At New York—Chicago, 4, 2, 1; New York, 3, 2, 3; second game, Chicago, 2, 9, 0; New York, 1, 5, 0.
At Philadelphia—Philadelphia, 10, 11, 2; Cincinnati, 2, 7, 2.
At Boston—Boston, 7, 9, 1; St. Louis, 0, 10, 2.
At Brooklyn—Pittsburgh, 3, 10, 0; Brooklyn, 2, 7, 3.
AMERICAN LEAGUE.
At Detroit—Detroit, 4, 12, 2; Detroit, 1, 5, 2.
At Cleveland—Cleveland, 7, 9, 0; New York, 0, 9, 4.

GOODWIN SUES FOR DIVORCE.

Files Sealed Complaint Against Maxine Elliott at Reno.

Reno, Nev., Sept. 23.—Nat C. Goodwin, actor, Monday filed a sealed complaint for divorce against his wife, Maxine Elliott. The nature of the allegations made by Goodwin will not be known until the case is brought to issue and the papers in the case unsealed in court. Attorneys for the actor refuse to discuss the case in any way.

It is thought that Mrs. Goodwin will contest the suit filed by her husband. It was definitely announced a short time ago that she was about to file suit for divorce against the actor.

Two Negroes Hanged.
Charleston, Miss., Sept. 23.—Ned Bowles and Jim Burlington, negroes were hanged here Tuesday for the murder of John Nathan, a white man.

Booth Robbed of $3,325.
Springfield, Mass., Sept. 23.—George Nicholson, a boothkeeper, reported to the police Tuesday that two strangers had robbed him of $3,325.

FOUND $3,000 PEARL

IN THE SUGAR RIVER

D. A. Douglas of Broadhead Made Valuable Discovery on Sunday.

Broadhead, Wis., Sept. 23.—D. A. Douglas of this place found a pearl valued at $3,000 on Sunday in Sugar river, it being the largest that of the season. Mr. Douglas refused an offer of $2,000 for the gem on Monday. John A. Young, ex-mayor of this city and a noted pearl dealer, declared the pearl to be worth $2,500 and it is understood he has offered that price for it. Mr. Douglas found two pearls two weeks ago Sunday which are valued at $75 apiece. The travels for the Rockford Wholesale Grocery company and he home every Sunday when he goes pearling.

Dr. Homer S. Stuntz, secretary of the missionary board of the Methodist Episcopal church, is here on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stuntz. He has just returned from the Eastern Wisconsin Methodist conference held at Neenah. He is now making a tour of the United States, attending the different state conferences before which he speaks on the missionary work of the church. He goes from here to Iowa to attend the state conference.

The enrollment of the Monroe high school is now 208, the largest attendance ever recorded at the school. The board of education will meet tonight to employ another teacher.

Benjamin Miller of Wyoming, Ill., has been elected to County Clerk. J. M. Stauffer, acting clerk, is a girl in the age of 17 years and was in this state without the consent of her parents. He also asks how old a boy must be to marry in Wisconsin without his parents' consent. Looks like a young elopement brewing.

Fred Blust of Freeport, Ill., will move to Monroe in the near future and will manage his cheese factory in Jordan township from this city.

Wins Medal.
Now Glens, Wis., Sept. 23.—Albert Schaller won the King medal at the shooting match held by the Chicago Sharpshooters club last week. He made 149 points out of a possible 155, being awarded the medal for the match.

"SILVER GRAYS" TO GO TO CHICAGO FRIDAY
Fred Schaller Won from C. C. MacLean in Final for Morgan Trophy, Played at Golf Links Yesterday.

In the finals of the Morgan handicap tournament, played over a 36-hole course yesterday forenoon and afternoon, Fred Schaller defeated C. C. MacLean 11 up and 10 to play. His name will be engraved on the handsome $100 silver cup given to the club by F. M. Morgan and he will be presented with a beautiful medal watch fob. In token of the victory, contests for the trophy will be annual features of the summer seasons at the links.

On Friday the fifty-year-olds expect to journey to Chicago to play their return match with the "Silver Grays" of the Western club. Some of those who will probably make the trip are: Wilson Lane, C. C. MacLean, Orion Sutherland, F. E. Elford, H. S. McGinnis, H. G. Carter, J. P. Baker, and Francis Grant who has just "turned fifty."

There was a good attendance at the club supper last evening and about thirty couples participated in the pleasantly dancing party of the 1908 season. Mrs. Helen Lee Grant of Chicago, Kramer Doty of California and Mrs. Laura Carpenter of Fort Atkinson were among the out-of-town guests. Carter's orchestra provided the usual enjoyable program. An "extra" club supper and hop will be given next Tuesday evening and the house committee will probably arrange for a Harvest Home party early in October. The club is not under contract to keep the clubhouse open after the last of this month, but may decide to do so if the weather continues to be favorable. The ladies will have their bridge whist party on Thursday of this week and the closing one of the series will be held next week.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY

COMMITTEE MEETS

Here at Four o'clock for Organization—Hon. J. M. Clancy to Speak after Repeat at Hotel Myers.

The county committee elected by Rock county democrats at the recent primaries is meeting for organization and for the purpose of perfecting plans for the campaign, at the city hall this afternoon. The session was to be called to order at four o'clock. About twenty-five or thirty members were expected to attend. Subject will be served at the Hotel Myers at seven o'clock and Hon. J. M. Clancy of Stoughton and others will be called upon for remarks at the close of the session. J. J. Cunningham, one of the two newly elected members of the state central committee from this congressional district, and Ex-Alderman Edward Connell are in charge of the arrangements. The other member of the state central committee is Michael Higgins of Ithaca and H. H. Hanson was re-elected as chairman at the democratic candidate convention held in Madison yesterday.

Water Will Have Long Flow.

When New York city gets its water from the Catskills, the longest flow will be from a point 130 miles from the city hall.

Many ill came from impure blood. Can't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lazy liver and sluggish bowels. Harbuck Blood Purifier strengthens stomach, bowels and liver, and purifies the blood.

Healing, torturing skin eruptions, disfigure, annoy, drive one mad. Doan's Ointment brings quick relief and lasting cures. Fifty cents at any drug store.

CLINTON RESIDENTS

TO LEAVE FOR WEST

The Bunkers Have Come to Texas and J. O. Woodman Goes to Oklahoma in Few Days.

Clinton, Sept. 23.—A great number of changes are to take place around this vicinity this fall. Already the Bunker boys have gone to Texas, and on Saturday afternoon two classes from the Methodist Sunday school gave Frank Bunker and family a farewell visit, preparatory to their migration to Texas, and on the 29th of Sept., J. O. Woodman, who has been working the F. C. Bradley farm, is going to sell off his stock, crops and implements and leave for Oklahoma. Mrs. Mona Anderson has sold off her property and is going to Alberta, Canada.

J. C. Barker is arranging to spend the winter with his brother in Kansas.

W. A. Mayhew is talking of leaving for Texas, where he has invested. A new kitchen has lately been erected in place of the one recently burned at the Commercial house.

Mr. Ames at the Hotel Clinton is making many repairs to the house. In the way of a fine cement walk, new door from the street, new steps, etc., making a great addition to the good appearance of Main street.

Charles Appenstad has recently had a fine cement walk built around his large lot on the corner of Church and Cross streets.

The Citizens' lecture course is to open at the Baptist church on Thursday evening, Oct. 8, with Skougard, the great violinist from Denmark, who is to be accompanied by Miss Alice McLaughlin, pianist, and Miss Bertha M. Grinnell, a soprano singer of much renown. The other three are also to be fine, making an exceptionally good course.

C. G. Hamilton and Frank Barker report that they are having a fine time in California, where they have been visiting for some time.

C. W. Irish is putting in full time with the repairs on his new house, which he hopes to soon have ready to occupy, but in and about, which he proposes to make many changes.

S. G. Lake is grading and filling the lot around his new house in fine shape. When completed he will have one of the most attractive places in the city.

Work is progressing on Mr. Conley's and Mr. Hawk's new houses, which will be quite an addition to the appearance of Highland Park avenue.

The great number from here who attended the Elkhorn fair seem to think it was a fine one.

An we predicted, Clinton did its full share toward contributing a crowd for the Elkhorn fair. Only 774 tickets were sold from this place, besides those who drove over.

F. Collier spent the Sabbath with friends in Delavan, where he so long resided.

J. H. Greene and son are to take a carload of cattle to Geneva Junction this week, where they are to have an auction on Saturday.

Rev. Collinge, for the past few days, has been in attendance at the annual conference.

Rev. Cooksey is now preaching a series of sermons from the book of Jonah, whom he believes to have been a real man, who had a definite mission.

A carload of cement has been sold here during the past week, showing that considerable improving is being done.

As we predicted sometime since, another of our young couples have been married and gone to housekeeping. We refer to Arthur Everhart and Dorothy Marek.

J. H. Greene and son took the premium at the Elkhorn fair on their wagon, harness and gear, and the prize was given the place of honor at the head of the procession.

Mrs. Emma Pangborn is visiting in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Northway spent Sunday in Harvard.

Miss Marie Gilbertson spent Sunday in Beloit.

C. O. and Ellen Warner, Chas. Warner and wife and C. O. Warner's father, who is 91 years old, drove over in their auto from Beloit, Sunday.

On Monday evening next the 20th Century club is to hold its first meeting of the season, and is to be in charge of Mrs. Jennie Phillips.

Mrs. Dan Ames of Elgin is visiting here.

R. W. Cheever reports the Mississippi river is being very low, having lowered some five or six feet in the past month, or about nine feet from the high water mark.

The "Lake Shore" road, southeast of the village, is being worked in the proper manner, and will soon be, instead of the worst piece of highway in this locality, one of the best, providing the drainage is properly attended to.

Miss Ethel Eldridge has gone to school at Appleton.

Geo. Woodard is visiting here at present.

Harold Bruce has commenced school in Beloit.

Jay Greene will soon be leaving for the university.

M. B. Eldridge is contemplating going to Texas for the winter.

WILL GIVE SPEECH

FROM CAR PLATFORM

William H. Taft Will Make Short Talk at Evansville on Way Through.

Evansville, Sept. 22.—William H. Taft will pass through Evansville Thursday morning, Sept. 24, in a special train, and will give a ten minute speech from the rear end of the car platform. He will arrive here at 9:50 and will speak until 10 o'clock. Frank Hume and Ira Jones will go to Madison this week as delegates to the Farmers' National congress.

Evansville friends of Miss Mable Ames will be sorry to learn that she is quite ill at her home in Ithaca, and will be unable to fill her position as teacher in the high school at Watonsville for several weeks.

Mrs. Emma Van Dusen returned this morning from a five weeks' visit to relatives in Canton, S. D.

Walter Plam went to Madison yesterday to engage a room and make arrangements for attending the university this year.

Rumor comes from Delavan of the engagement of Dr. Bert Snashall and Miss Edith Cluny, who at present is a domestic science teacher in Racine. Dr. Snashall was a former Evansville boy and has many friends here who will congratulate him.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Haffel welcomed a baby girl at their home today, September 22.

Mrs. Arthur Devine is in Brooklyn this week caring for her mother, Mrs. E. Rutty, who is quite ill.

Miss Anna Kueck is visiting in Beloit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Carl Munch.

Mrs. Bert Baker and Miss Lulu Baker were Janesville visitors today. Mrs. Albert Fulton is home from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Harold Snyder, in Chicago.

P. I. Ewald will attend the Farmers' National congress at Madison, as he is one of the chosen delegates. Miss Ethel Hubbard goes to Edgerton Wednesday for a short visit with friends.

BIMIDJI, MINN., IN GREAT DANGER

CITY CALLS FOR AID TO FIGHT
THE FOREST FIRES.

MICHIGAN HAMLET AFIRE

Dark River Reported Burning Up—
Conditions in the Adirondacks
Grow Worse—Daily Loss
There is Enormous.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 23.—A message was received at Gov. Johnson's office Tuesday afternoon stating that the city of Bimidji, with a population of about 7,000, is in serious danger on account of forest fires and asking that help be furnished to fight the fire. Gen. Andrews, chief fire warden of Minnesota, was directed to look after the necessities of Bimidji. The town is in Beltrami county in northern Minnesota, on the Minnesota and International division of the Northern Pacific railway.

Several Towns Out of Danger.
Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 23.—The fires at Effie, Phillips and Coe, and the surrounding country in northern Wisconsin, while still burning, were under control Tuesday, according to dispatches received at the Wisconsin Central offices in Minneapolis. No rain had been reported from the fire district. The fires had spent their fury, and unless heavy winds should whip them into life it was said little was to be feared.

Little Settlement Destroyed.
Rhinelander, Wis., Sept. 23.—Saturday, a settlement of half a dozen homes, three miles east of Rhinelander, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The settlers fled to Moena Lake, where they are being cared for. No loss of life has been reported. Rhinelander is now regarded as safe and the fires have been quieted by lack of wind.

Michigan Village Burning.
Escanaba, Mich., Sept. 23.—The village of Park View is burning, the forest fires having broken through the lines of the citizen fire fighters.

Worse in the Adirondacks.
North Creek, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The forest fire conditions in the Adirondacks are growing worse hourly, with no sign of relief, although 6,000 men are engaged in fighting the flames day and night. Not a single fire has been checked and the smaller ones burning are rapidly spreading in vast conflagrations, which in some instances are confining. At least 50,000 acres of valuable forest lands are on fire and the extent of the destruction may be much greater.

A big fire has broken out at North Hudson, in Essex county, where 250 men are fighting it. This fire is already miles in extent. In the village of North Creek the smoke is so dense that it is impossible to see 50 yards in any direction. Never has it been known to be so dry in this locality. The streams are drying up and the supply of drinking water is almost exhausted.

Fighting to Save Cottages.
Malone, N. Y., Sept. 23.—With only two light showers since July 20, northern New York's wooded sections are in no condition to withstand the forest fires raging in the vicinity of Mountain View and spreading and growing more dangerous hourly. Forty men are trying to save the cottages at the lake and along the river at Lake Placid land, with thousands of dollars' worth of timber on state land being destroyed each day, every available workman is employed in fighting fires. Tupper Lake is surrounded by fires, though the village is not thought to be in danger. A report says that a serious fire has started west of Loon Lake.

Daily Loss is Enormous.
Washington, Sept. 23.—Dr. W. J. McGee of the geological survey, who has returned to this city after a visit to the Adirondacks, states that a conservative estimate of the damage being done in that section by the forest fires is $1,000,000 a day.

CRUEL TO HIS POLO PONY.

Well-Known Eastern Clubman Convicted and Fined $50.

Batoni, Mass., Sept. 23.—Allan Forbes, a well-known clubman and member of the Dedham Pony Polo team, was found guilty Tuesday by Judge Sears of the district court, of cruelty to his pony during a game at Myopia on September 12. A fine of $50 was imposed. Mr. Forbes entered an appeal.

Mr. Forbes' counsel contended that Mr. Forbes had not used the animal cruelly. Judge Sears said that Mr. Forbes, in the excitement of the game, had revolved the animal more than he was probably aware of, or intended to do.

"Cap" Anson's Daughter Elopes.
Chicago, Sept. 23.—Dorothy Anson, 19 years old, daughter of Adrian C. Anson, former baseball captain and ex-cy clerk, ran away from the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter H. Clough, at Montclair, N. J., Tuesday night and was married at Hoboken to Arthur C. Dodge, a clerk in a Montclair bank.

Teacher and Pupils Drown.
Strong City, Kan., Sept. 23.—Following a heavy rain and hailstorm Tuesday afternoon, an attempt to ford the south fork of the Cottonwood river resulted in the drowning of Miss Myra King, a country school teacher, and two of her pupils, Victor Rector and Edna Fultz.

Origin of Fireworks.
Fireworks were originated in the thirteenth century by the Florentines, and later were popularized in Rome.

FRENCH NAVAL DISASTER

THIRTEEN MEN KILLED BY EX-PLOSION OF BIG GUN.

Horrible Accident on Armored Cruiser
Latouche Treville at Toulon
During Gunnery Drill.

Toulon, France, Sept. 23.—During gunnery drill Tuesday one of the big turret guns on the French armored cruiser Latouche Treville exploded with terrific violence, completely wrecking the after turret and killing outright the entire gun crew of 13 men. A number of men were seriously injured, some of them probably fatally.

The accident was similar to that aboard the gunnery schoolship Couronne off Les Salles d'Hyeres, August 12, when by the bursting of the breech of one of the guns six men were killed and 18 injured.

The drill Tuesday had been proceeding for a considerable time when, without warning, the whole turret seemed to blow out. Disembodied bodies were thrown in all directions and several of them were hurled into the sea through the great breach caused by the explosion.

The spectacle was horrible, the dead and wounded, together with shattered arms and legs, littering the deck. A call to quarters was sounded and as speedily as possible the wounded were cared for. The gun that exploded was 7.6 inches bore, of which the cruiser carried two. Happening so soon after the accident on the Couronne, the explosion has caused a sensation in naval circles and doubtless will lead to a most rigid investigation. The Latouche Treville carries a complement of 370 men.

SAYS GOMPERS MUST ANSWER.

Court Rules Against Him in the Contempt Case.

Washington, Sept. 23.—"This is a struggle calculated to make history, with 2,000,000 workmen on one side and the manufacturers on the other, the never-ending fight between capital and labor," declared former Judge Alton B. Parker of New York, once Democratic presidential candidate, just before the District of Columbia supreme court Tuesday ordered President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor to answer certain questions asked him in the contempt proceedings against federal officials.

The court, presided over by Chief Justice Taft, held to be relevant the questions asked of Mr. Gompers by Attorney Daniel Davenport of Bridgeport, Conn., counsel for the J. I. Case & Co. of New York, and the J. I. Case & Co. of New York, out of whose original complaint of boycott the present contempt proceedings grew. Testimony is being taken before Commissioner Harrington.

RAYMER BEATEN BY POLICE.

Blood on Alleged Mob Leader's Shirt
Thus Explained.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 23.—Introduction of evidence in the case of Abe Raymer, the alleged mob leader on trial for the murder of William K. Donagan, an aged negro who was lynched, was concluded Tuesday night. When the shirt Raymer wore on the night of the lynching was presented in evidence by the state, the defense demanded an opportunity to explain why there was blood on the garment. Two soldiers who were on duty at the city prison the night of the riot and of Raymer's arrest, testified that the police beat Raymer until he screamed and that he was bleeding when he came from the room where he had been "sweated." The confession Raymer made while being "sweated" was not introduced. Officer Evans Jones admitted having slapped Raymer several times, causing defendant's nose to bleed. Soldiers said Raymer not only screamed but begged for mercy.

Lad Accused of Killing Priest.

New York, Sept. 23.—A sensational turn was given Tuesday night to the strange shooting of Rev. Arturo Ascencio, the Spanish priest, who was found wounded in Central park on the night of September 14 last and who subsequently died, when 17-year-old Enrique de Lara, son of a West Indian merchant, was arrested and charged with having murdered the priest. The police say that de Lara has confessed.

Polishing with Corn Husks.
Perhaps the most curious of polishing wheels is that made of corn husks for finishing shell or bone combs.

PRESIDENT BACK IN THE CAPITAL

RETURNS TO WASHINGTON IN EXCELLENT HEALTH.

GREETED BY GREAT CROWD

Oyster Bay Sorry to Part with Mr.
Roosevelt — He Has Had
An Unusually Busy
Vacation.

Washington, Sept. 23.—President Roosevelt returned to Washington from Oyster Bay at 5:55 o'clock Tuesday evening. The special train bearing the presidential party was met at the station by many officials, including members of the cabinet, army and navy officers and others.

The president was the picture of health and vigor as he alighted. His bronzed face beamed with delight as he gave the hearty hand-clasp and characteristic word of greeting to those who surrounded him. Secretaries Wright, Metcalf, Strawn, Wilson and Postmaster General Meyer formed the center of the group.

As the president, with a rapid stride, passed through the gates and to his carriage, he was given an ovation by a thousand or more people. As he stepped into a car, he was greeted by a throng, he was driven away to the White House.

Oyster Bay Says Good-Bye.
Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Theodore Roosevelt's final summer vacation during his present term of office as president of the United States came to an end Tuesday when, with his family and members of the summer White House executive staff, he departed amid cheers from a throng of residents for the White House at Washington. At the same time Oyster Bay ceased to be the summer capital of the United States, a title it has proudly held for seven years.

There is not a resident in this little village, from the youngest tot, in whom the president has always been greatly interested, to the feeble, white-haired old men who have known the president for years and years, that does not look with regret upon the close of the last presidential summer vacation and the final departure of President Roosevelt to his last term of duty in guiding the nation.

In several respects this has been an exceptional vacation for the president. He has entertained at Sagamore Hill more visitors than before, and at the same time has done much more work than on previous vacations. The political situation, both national and state, has made a tremendous amount of work for him and kept the staff of the executive offices busy day and night.

Made Many Short Trips.
President Roosevelt went about more this vacation than he did last summer. He made trips to Newport, where he addressed the conference on battleship plans at the naval war college; to Jerseyville, N. Y., where he spoke at the opening of the Jordanville public library; to Matinecock, N. Y., where he spoke at the dedication of a monument to Capt. John Underhill; to Princeton, N. J., to attend the funeral of ex-President Cleveland; to Cedarhurst, L. I., to witness a polo match; and to Huntington, L. I., to call at the camp of squadron C, New York National Guard.

With all his duties of state and political work, the president has managed to find considerable time for recreation. In his stables he has a number of fine saddle horses which he has used in long rides about the pretty country of northern Long Island, usually accompanied by either Mrs. Roosevelt or one of her sons.

Epidemic at Manila Receding.
Manila, Sept. 23.—The cholera epidemic in this city is receding, judging from official reports Wednesday which give only 11 deaths and 36 new cases for the 24 hours ending at eight o'clock, which is the smallest gain made by the plague in several days.

A One-Sided View.
"A member of the Georgia legislature," he remarked, "introduced a bill which provides that any man who is lured into marrying a woman who has by artificial means enhanced her beauty may, if he wishes, have the marriage declared null and void. That is to say, if the bridegroom discovers that the bride is compelled when she goes to bed to hang any of her supposed charms upon a chair he may consider himself free to wed again."

"And what about it," asked the lady, "if a bride discovers, after the ceremony, that the groom wears a wig or dyes his mustache?"

"Any woman who is foolish enough not to know a wig or a dyed mustache when she sees one ought never to make any complaint about it."

His Vacation Method.
Miss Lillian B. Hill, the writer of humorous advertisements, told a number of Duluth jewelers, at a recent jewelers' banquet, a good way to get off for a vacation without being missed from business.

"During the last Easter holidays," she said, "I met a jeweler at a seaside hotel.

REPRESENTATIVE PEOPLE IN FIRST PUBLISHED LIST

Nominations Are Expected To Continue To Be Recorded For Some Time To Come. If You Intend Entering The Name of Some Friend Don't Delay The Matter As Every Day Lost is Votes Lost. Any One of the Prizes Is Well Worth
The Effort.

WHO WILL MAKE THE TRIP ABROAD?

If You Have a Friend In The List Get Out Your Scissors and Contribute Your Share of Ballots
To Their Success.

The nominations received so far are not only very satisfactory but very flattering indeed. The proposition has been enthusiastically received and endorsed by all who are familiar with the project and that it will be a grand success is already an assured fact. The trip abroad of course is the great attraction but the beautiful diamond rings and handsome gold watch which will be shared in the admiration of the candidates when they are placed on display in the near future. If the list does not contain a brother, lodge member or fellow church worker and you think they would stand a show to be successful, send in their name and it will appear in the next issue of the Gazette. Once you have given them the start other friends soon rally round their camp, the battle flag is unfurled and the march to victory is begun.

Send in a nomination today. Don't delay. The time in which to win is very short.

Would You

have your worn-out and aching teeth extracted if you knew it could be done PAINLESSLY?

Would you have bridge work made to replace some teeth you have lost if you knew it would prove satisfactory?

Would you have a badly decayed or broken tooth crowned if you knew it would retain its use and last as long as a sound tooth?

If so, place your teeth in my care and you may realize each and every one of the above desires. Glad to have a TOOTH TALK with you any time.

A Stove That Will Bake Good Bread Will Bake Anything

During the past week there has been used at the Sheldon Hardware Co., for demonstration one of our $15.00 Gas Ranges, baking as high as 100 small loaves of bread each day with perfect success.

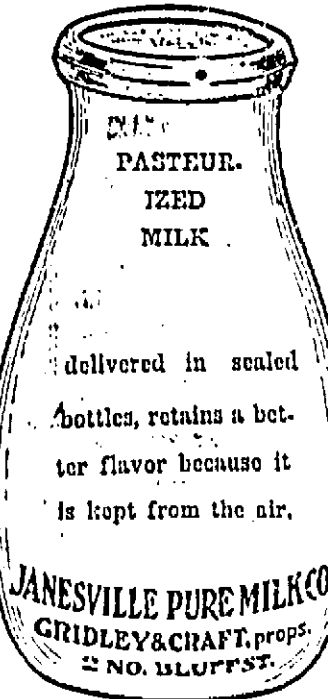

Gas is ideal for baking for the reason that any desired degree of heat may be continued as long as needed. And the ovens are constructed as to be uniformly heated throughout.

In selling this Gas Range we make all connections free, anywhere along the line of our mains.

The cost set up in your kitchen is but $15.00. Let our assistant tell you more. Either phone, or drop us a postal.

ARE PREPARED TO MEET JUDGE TAFT

WILL ARRIVE HERE TOMORROW MORNING AT 9:10.

ARRANGEMENTS AT DEPOT

Train Will Pull Across Academy Street, Making Plenty of Room for Crowds to See and Hear the Presidential Candidate.

Republican County Chairman H. L. McNamara has completed his plans for the reception of Judge William H. Taft here tomorrow morning. The special train with the Presidential candidate aboard will arrive at the Western depot at 9:10 and will be pulled across the Academy street crossing so that the crowds who will be at the depot to greet him may have an excellent opportunity to both see and hear the next President of the United States.

Judge Taft travels on a special train under the charge of Col. W. D. Ransdell, sergeant-at-arms of the United States Senate, and will be accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. Carpenter, United States Senators Robert M. La Follette and Isaac Stephenson, Gov. James O. Davidson, Congressman H. A. Cooper and John W. Nelson, Lieut. Gov. W. D. Connor, Senator of Congress, W. G. Wheeler, H. P. Haddock, L. B. Curtis, F. J. Mount, Philip Norcross and S. C. Cobb, Dr. McCleskey and L. C. Whitteit of Edgerton and Perry Wilder of Evansville are expected to join the party here. The first stop in the country is at Beloit, where the special stops for ten minutes, arriving there at 8:20. Janesville is the next place, where a stop will be made at 9:10, leaving at 9:20. Evansville comes in for the next ten minutes, arriving at 9:50 and leaving at 10:00.

Chairman McNamara is very anxious that a large turnout greet the party here and has been suggested that several of the factories will close down for fifty minutes to give the workmen an opportunity to go to the depot.

Judge Taft will speak from the rear platform of the last car and will be so arranged that he can be heard perfectly and seen by all. The train will swing across Academy street and danger from switchmen will be eliminated as far as possible. National Committeeman Rogers of Madison has written Mr. McNamara inviting himself and party to accompany the train to Madison and hear Judge Taft speak there before the National Farmers' convention, and State Chairman Connor has written inviting the party to continue on to Milwaukee and remain overnight in that city to hear his speech there in the evening. This is the first of three trips of like nature that Mr. Taft will make between now and election day and Janesville is one of the few places to be visited by the presidential candidate.

At Evansville Perry Wilder telephones that arrangements have been made for a large turnout and he urges all to be at the depot in plenty of season to make the most of the ten minutes allotted to the talk.

PLAYED SEMI-FINALS IN TENNIS TOURNEY

DAIRY SLEUTHS IN THE COUNTY AGAIN

Try to Prosecute Joseph Fisher, Who Belongs to Janesville Jurisdiction, in Beloit Court.

On complaint of S. J. Dufner, member of the state dairy and food commission, Joseph Fisher was jailed before the Beloit municipal court today to answer to a charge of conducting an unsanitary creamery. As Mr. Fisher lives but three miles from Janesville, Judge Ross immediately directed that the case go before Judge Fifield in this city. Officer Floyd Carter came up with him from Beloit and Atty. Thomas S. Nolan appeared for him in municipal court. The case was adjourned until Friday and another adjournment will be taken at that time. Mr. Fisher was released on his own recognizance. The district attorney, who is a brother, requested the court to appoint someone else to conduct the prosecution and this was denied. The defendant has the case claims that he has complied with every recommendation and request regarding floors, etc., of his stable, that the commissioner previously made of him and that the action against him is purely malicious.

OBITUARY.

Sister Mary Dorrance.

Margaret Sampson, whose name in religion was Sister Mary Dorrance, died this morning at 11:30 at St. Joseph's convent of Mercy. She was born in Ireland in 1875 in Ballingarry, County Limerick, and had been an inmate of the convent for fourteen years.

For the past three years she had suffered with consumption, going to Denver a few years ago for her health and returning last May.

The funeral services will be held in St. Patrick's church on Friday morning at nine o'clock.

Mildred Manthel.

Mildred Manthel, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Manthel of 394 Locust street, died this morning at 6:30. The funeral will be held on Friday at two o'clock from the home and at 2:30 from St. Peter's English Lutheran church. The Rev. W. P. Christy will officiate.

Mrs. Susan Minney.

Mrs. J. L. Spelman was called to Vienna, Michigan, today by the death of her mother Mrs. Susan Minney. Mrs. Minney was 76 years old at the time of her decease, which was last night. Besides Mrs. Spelman she is survived by two sons and two daughters.

Mrs. Nellie Collins.

Relative and friends of Mrs. Nellie Collins who came to Janesville to visit last April and remained until a week ago will be shocked and deeply grieved to learn of her death in Chicago yesterday. She is survived by a daughter, Miss Anna Collins; a brother, Frank Mahady of Chicago; and four sisters, Mrs. C. E. Marsh of this city, Mrs. B. Moran, Mrs. George Riley, and Miss Nora Mahady, all of Chicago. The funeral is to be held Wednesday morning.

William G. Stone.

The funeral of the late William G. Stone will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the home of his brother, Charles H. Stone, 15 Logan street.

Harold Bennett.

Harold Bennett, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Bennett of Rockford, succumbed to acute indigestion yesterday. The child was born on the eighth of last June. The remains will be brought here on the 11:45 C. & N. W. train tomorrow morning and services will be held at the grave.

JURY OF TWELVE IS TRYING BLUHM

Taking of Testimony in Case Against Spring Brook Man Was Commenced at 1:30 This Afternoon.

After some fifteen or more citizens whose names were drawn from the thimble in municipal court, had been examined the attorneys engaged for the criminal prosecution and defense of Ernest "Moonie" Bluhm, twelve finally passed muster and were sworn in as a jury just before noon today.

Those who took the oath were: Al Knopf, Louis Hemmens, Everett Fisher, Walter Hazen, William Hemmeling, George Huts, David Drummond, J. P. Spoon, E. H. Murdoch, Sam Tall, John Brecher, and Fred Burton. District Attorney Fisher made his opening statement, charging Bluhm with indecent actions in the presence of two young ladies, in the vicinity of the Beloit road, between five and six o'clock, on Sunday, Sept. 13, and Atty. E. H. Ryan made reply, insisting that no offense was intended and that Bluhm was much further away from the complainants than the prosecution had represented him to be.

Adjournment was taken during the noon hour and the taking of testimony was commenced at 1:30 this afternoon.

On the grounds that the offense charged came under the common law and that the complaint for a statutory offense was not sufficiently explicit, Atty. Ryan moved this afternoon that the case be dismissed. After argument Judge Fifield denied the motion and the examination of witnesses was resumed.

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

(Copyright 1907, The Associated Press.)

As for Maitland, he was taking the stairs three at a clip, and had his pass key in the latch almost as soon as his feet touched the first landing. An instant later he thrust the door open and blundered blindly into the pitch darkness of his study.

For a thought he stood hawbawled and dismayed by the absence of light. He had thought, somehow, to find the gas jets flaming. The atmosphere was hot and foul with the odor of kerosene, the blackness filled with strange sounds and mysterious moving shapes. A grunting snarl came to his ears, and then the silence and the still air were split by a report, accompanied by a streak of orange flame whirling collingward from the middle of the room.

Its light, transient as it was, gave him some inkling of the situation. Unthinkingly he flung himself forward, ready to grapple with that which first should meet his hands. Something soft and yielding brushed against his shoulder, and subconsciously, in the auto-hypnosis of his excitement, he was aware of a man's voice cursing and a woman's cry of triumph trailing off into a wail of pain.

On the instant he found himself at grips with the murderer. For a moment both swayed, dazed by the shock of collision. Then Maitland got a footing on the carpet and put forth his strength; the other gave way, slipped, and went to his knees. Maitland's hands found his throat, fingers sinking deep into flesh as he bore the fellow backward.

A match flared noiselessly and the gas blazed overhead. A cry of astonishment choked in his throat as he recognized his own features duplicated in the face of the man whose throat he was slowly and relentlessly constricting. Anstey! He had not thought of him or connected him with the sounds that had thrilled and alarmed him over the telephone wire coming out of the void and blackness of night. Indeed, he had hardly thought any coherent thing about the matter. The ring of the girl's "No!" had startled him, and he had somehow thought, vaguely, that O'Hagan had surprised her in the flat. But more than that—

He glanced swiftly aside at the girl standing still beneath the chandelier, the match in one hand burning toward her finger tips, in the other Anstey's revolver. Their eyes met, and in hers the light of gladness leaped and fell like a living flame, then died, to be replaced by a look of entreaty and prayer as moving that his heart in its unselfish civility went out to her.

Who or what she was, howsoever damning the evidence against her, he would believe against belief, shield her to the end at whatever hazard to himself, whatever cost to his fortune. Love is unreasoning and unreasonable even when unrecognized.

His senses seemed to vibrate with redoubled activity, to become abnormally acute. For the first time he was conscious of the imperative clamor of the electric bell in O'Hagan's quarters, as well as of the janitor's rich brogue voicing his indignation as he opened the basement door and prepared to ascend. Instantly the cause of the disturbance flashed upon him.

His strangle hold on Anstey relaxed, he released the man, and, brows knitted with the concentration of his thoughts, he stepped back and over to the girl, lifting her hand and gently taking the revolver from her fingers.

Below, O'Hagan was parleying through the closed door with the late callers. Maitland could have blessed his hat-headed Irish stupidity for the delay he was causing.

Already Anstey was on his feet again, bled with rage and crouching as if ready to spring, only restrained by the sight of his own revolver, steadily and threateningly in Maitland's hand.

For the least part of a second the young man hesitated, choosing his way. Then, resolved, in moments of determination: "Stand up, you hound!" he cried. "Back to the wall there!" and thrust the weapon under the burglar's nose.

The move gained instant obedience. Mr. Anstey could not reasonably hesitate in the face of such odds. "And you," Maitland continued over his shoulder to the girl without removing his attention from the burglar, "into the alcove there, at once! And not a word, not a whisper, not a sound until I call you!"

She gave him one frightened and piteous glance, then, unquestioning, slipped quietly behind the portieres.

To Anstey, again: "Turn your pockets out!" commanded Maitland. "Quick, you fool! The police are below; your freedom depends on your haste."

Anstey's hands flew to his pockets, emptying their contents on the floor. Maitland's eyes sought in vain the shape of the canvas bag. But time was too precious. Another moment's procrastination and—

"That will do," he said, abruptly, without raising his voice. "Now listen to me. At the end of the hall, there, you'll find a trunk closet, from which a window—

"I know."

"Naturally you would. Now go!"

Anstey waited for no repetition of the peremptory. Whatever the mindless of Maitland, he was concerned only to profit by it. Never before had the long arm of the law stretched hungry fingers so near his collar. He went, springing down the hall in long, soundless strides, vanishing into its shadows.

As he disappeared Maitland stepped to the door, raised his revolver, and pulled the trigger twice. The shots detonated loudly in that confined space, and rang coincident with the clash and chatter of shivered glass. A thin cloud of vapor obscured the doorway, swaying on the hot, still air, then parted and dissolved, dissipated by the entrance of four men who, thrusting the door violently open, struggled into the hallway.

The cloth and brass buttons moved conspicuously in the van, a grim face flushed and perspiring beneath the helmet's visor, a revolver poised menacingly in one hand, locust as ready in the other. Behind this outward and visible manifestation of the law's majesty bobbed a rusty derby, cocked jauntily back upon the red, shining forehead of a short and thick-set person with a black mustache. O'Hagan's agitated countenance loomed over a dusty shoulder, and the battered silk hat of the night hawk brought up the rear.

"Come in, everybody," Maitland greeted them cheerfully, turning back into the study and tossing the revolver, shreds of smoke still curling up from its muzzle, upon a divan. "O'Hagan," he called, on second thought, "jump downstairs and see that all New York doesn't get in. Let nobody in!"

As the janitor unwillingly obeyed, policeman and detective found their tongues. A volley of questions, to the general purport of "What's the meanin' of all this here?" assailed Maitland as he rested himself coolly on an edge of the desk. He responded, with one eyebrow slightly elevated:

"A burglar. What did you suppose? That I was indulging in target practice at this time of night?"

"Which way'd he go?"

"Back of the flat—through the window to the fire-escape, I suppose. I took a couple of shots after him, but missed, and, inasmuch as he was armed, I didn't pursue."

Hickey stepped forward, growling unpleasantly at the young man. "Yeh go alone," he told the uniformed man.

"Stand Up, You Hound!"

"'nd see 'f yeh's tellin' the truth. I'll stay here 'nd keep him company."

His tone amused Maitland. In the reaction from the recent strain upon his wits and nerve, he laughed openly. "And who are you?" he suggested, smiling, as the policeman clumped heavily away.

Hickey japed thoughtfully into a Satsuma jardiniere and sneered. "I s'pose yeh never saw me before?"

Maitland bowed affirmation. "I'm sorry to say that that pleasure has heretofore been denied me."

"Uh-huh," agreed the detective, sourly. "I guess that's a hot one, too."

He scowled blackly in Maitland's amazed face and seemed abruptly to swell with mysterious rage. "My name's Hickey," he informed him, venomously, "and don't yeh lose sight of that after this. It's somethin' I won't hurt yeh to remember. Q'ness yer mem'ry's taking a vacation, huh?"

"My dear man," said Maitland, "you speak in parables and—if you'll pardon my noticing it—with some un-called-for spleen. Might I suggest that you moderate your tone? For," he continued, facing the man squarely, "if you don't, it will be my duty and pleasure to hoist you into the street."

"I got a photograph of yeh doing it," growled Hickey. "Still, seeing as yeh never saw me before, I guess I won't do no harm for yeh to connect with this." And he turned back his coat, uncovering the official shield of the detective bureau.

"Ah!" commented Maitland, politely. "A detective? How interesting!"

"Fire-escape window's broke, all right." This was the policeman, returned. "And some one's let down the bottom length of ladder, but there ain't nobody in sight."

"No," interjected Hickey, "nd there wouldn't 've been if yeh'd been waitin' in the back yard all night."

"Certainly not," Maitland agreed, bluntly. "Especially if my burglar had known it. In which case I fancy he would have chosen another route—by the roof, possibly."

"Yeh know somethin' about roofs yehself, don't yeh?" suggested Hickey. "Well, guess yeh'll have time to write a book about it while yeh—"

He stopped unexpectedly to Maitland's aid and bent forward. Something cold and hard closed with a snap around each of the young man's wrists. He started up, face aflame with indignation, forgetful of the girl hidden in the alcove.

"What the devil!" he cried, hotly, facing the hand.

"Ah, come off," Hickey advised him. "Yeh can't bluff it forever, you know. Come along and tell the sarge all about it. Daniel Maitland, Esquire, alias Handsome Dan Anstey, gentleman burglar. Ah, cut that out, young fellow; yeh're foxy, all right, but yeh've pushed yer run of luck too hard."

Hickey paused, perplexed, finding no words whorwith adequately to voice the disgust aroused in him by his prisoner's demeanor, something far from seemly, to his mind.

The humor of the situation had just dawned upon Maitland, and the young man was crimson with appreciation. "Go on, go on!" he begged, feebly. "Don't let me stop you, Hickey. Don't, please, let me spoil it all. Your Sherlock Holmes, Hickey, is one of the finest characterizations I have ever witnessed. It is a privilege not to be underestimated to be permitted to play

It flung to you. But seriously, my dear sleuth!" with an unhappy attempt to wipe his eyes with hampered fists, "don't you think you're wasting your talents?"

By this time even the policeman seemed doubtful. He glanced askance at the detective and shuffled uneasily. As for the caddy, who had blundered in at first with intent to demand his due in no uncertain terms, apparently Maitland's bearing, coupled with the inherent contempt and hatred of the night hawk tribe for the minions of the law, had won his sympathies completely. Looming against a door-jamb, quite at home, he genially puffed an unspeakable cigarette and nodded approbation of Maitland's every other word.

But Hickey—Hickey bristled bel-

"Jee," he declared, acidly. "Yeh and dandy. I take off my hat to yeh, Dan Anstey. I may be a bad actor, all right, but yeh got me beat at the post."

Then turning to the policeman: "I got him right. Look here!" Drawing a folded newspaper from his pocket, he spread it open for the officer's inspection. "Yeh see them pictures? Now, on the level, is it natural?"

The patrolman frowned doubtfully, glancing from the paper to Maitland. The caddy stretched a curious neck. Maitland frowned inwardly; he had seen that infamous sheet.

"Now listen," the detective expounded with gusto. "Twice to-day this here Maitland, or Anstey, toots me. Once on the stoop here, 'nd he's Maitland 'nd takes me to lunch—see? Next time it's in Harlem, where I've been sent with a bit from the 'emissary's office to find Anstey. 'nd he's still Maitland 'nd surprised to see me. I ain't sure then, but I'm coin' some heavy thinkin' all right. I lets him go and shadows him. After a while he gives me the slip 'nd I chases down here, waitin' for him to turn up. Coming down the car I buys this paper 'nd sees the 'pictures, and then I'm on. See?"

"Uh-huh," grunted the patrolman, scowling at Maitland. The caddy crossed his nose with a soiled forefinger reflectively, plainly a bit prejudiced by Hickey's exposition.

"One minute," Maitland interjected, eyes twinkling and lips twitching. "How long was it that you began to watch this house, sleuth?"

"Five minutes before yeh come," responded Hickey, ignoring the insult. "Now—"

"Took you a long time to figure this out, didn't it? But go on, please."

"Well, I picked the winner, all right," flared the detective. "I guess that'll be about all for yours."

"Not quite," Maitland contradicted, brusquely, wearying of the complication. "You say you met me on the stoop here. At what o'clock?"

"One; 'nd yeh takes me to lunch at Eugene's."

"Ah! When did I leave you?"

"I leaves yeh there at two."

"Well, O'Hagan will testify that he left me in these rooms, in dressing-gown and slippers, at about one. At four he found me on this divan, bound and gagged, by courtesy of your friend, Mr. Anstey. Now, when was I with you in Harlem?"

"At seven o'clock, to the minute, yeh come."

"Never mind. At ten minutes to seven I took a cab from here to the Primordial club, where I dined at seven, precisely."

GRAZED BLACK SLAYS TWO

MULATTO INMATE OF ASYLUM CAPTURED AFTER FIGHT.

Man Kills Girl and Overeater of Grounds—Injures Another Young Woman.

Washington, Sept. 23.—In demonic fury, Andrew Lightfoot, a mulatto inmate at the St. Elizabeth Asylum for the Insane, killed Patrick Maloney, the overseer of the grounds, and Miss Follin, a young inmate of the asylum, and severely injured Miss Robinson, another inmate, Tuesday. The murderer escaped from the grounds and fled to the swamps near by, where shortly afterward a cordon of police, a score of them in all, quickly surrounded the place of his concealment. He was finally caught after the police found it necessary to shoot him, inflicting wounds in the leg, and he was taken back to the asylum.

The murder occurred directly in front of the main building for the men patients at the asylum, which is a government institution. Maloney, 50 years old, lived on the place with his family. Lightfoot, 40 years old, has been a patient at the hospital for eight years and was regarded as of a harmless nature. For some time he has been serving as an assistant to the overseer. He was given in that capacity some of the privileges akin to those accorded the "trustees" in criminal institutions. It was Tuesday morning when Lightfoot became suddenly violently insane. Grasping an iron bar which was close at hand, he struck at Maloney and the blow landed on the overseer's head, crushing the skull and causing instant death. Immediately the murderer sought to effect his escape. Miss Follin was in his way, and he struck at her, also crushing her skull. She dropped dead to the ground.

Continuing in his flight, he encountered Miss Robinson and tried to kill her. The aim was bad, however, and he succeeded in inflicting only a slight scalp wound and a broken arm.

BOAT WRECKED; 110 DROWN.

Only 27 Saved When Bark Star of Bengal Is Lost.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 23.—Advice received from Alaska by the United States Signal corps say that 110 men, including nine whites, were drowned in the wreck of the American bark Star of Bengal on Coronation island, west of the Prince of Wales archipelago.

Twenty-seven of the vessel's crew and passengers were saved.

The Star of Bengal belonged to the Alaska Packers' association and was on her way from Fort Wrangel to San Francisco with a cargo of 45,000 cases of salmon. In addition to her crew she carried 100 Chinese and Japanese who were employed in the canneries of the company, taken aboard at Fort Wrangel.

ARMY OFFICERS IN FIGHT.

Chief Surgeon at Fort Leavenworth Is Under Arrest.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 23.—As a result of a difference of opinion with his commanding officer regarding orders to "clean up" the prison hospital, Maj. John N. Stone, chief surgeon at the military prison, is under arrest, in his quarters at Fort Leavenworth, awaiting trial by court-martial.

Maj. Thomas N. Stevens, commander of the military prison, gave the order for Maj. Stone's arrest after the two men had had an altercation in Maj. Stevens' office, during which the latter is alleged to have struck Maj. Stone and thrown him from the office.

Veteran Express Official Dead.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 23.—Robert Davis Hughes, 70 years old, general superintendent of the American Express Company, died here Tuesday of pneumonia. He was one of the best-known men in the railroad industry in the middle west, in a service which he had followed for 50 years with the American Express Company. Mr. Hughes rose from a porter to general superintendent.

NEW AUTOMATIC ASPHALT CLEANER.

Berlin.—The enterprise of the city rubber scraper and saves the city of Berlin, Germany, is again shown by the introduction of a motor sprinkling and cleaning cart which is proving economical and satisfactory to the city department. The machine has an 8 horse-power accumulating motor and carries 600 gallons of water. This machine is destined to replace the sprinkling wagon and the rubber cleaner.

TAMMANY HALL TO MOVE.

New York.—In the near future, according to present plans, Tammany Hall will move up town—to the neighborhood of Columbus Circle—at Fifth-street and Broadway.

The character of the neighborhood around the old headquarters is changing and the members complain that its location is not central enough and that it is no longer a place where the new grand sachem, Daniel P. Cohalan, has received a number of offers for the property, which is in a good location for business purposes. With Tammany headquarters on Fourteenth street, the old headquarters will feel very lonely. Probably a new Rowery will develop in the uptown district.

doing he will be earning something instead of being under a large expense. At the same time he will be acquiring information along the line of work which he expects to follow, as well as learning a hundred and one things that will be more or less useful to him later in life, and which he cannot possibly obtain a knowledge of at college.

Mr. Crane has the same aversion to mechanical schools. He states that he does not think mechanical training cuts an figure whatever so far as the making of mechanics is concerned. Continuing, he said:

"If such young men as our colleges and mechanical schools are turning out had been put at some mechanical work while they were young they might have stayed at it and become mechanics, but after going through mechanical school they are spoiled for anything of that kind, and while the mechanical work that they learn there may be of some advantage to them in after life, it really cuts no figure in the question of education."

Mr. Crane's remarks have raised a strong protest among educators and participants and also among many employers, who contend that the university graduates are best qualified to assume the highest duties in whatever hemisphere they may be in.

Singers Need Big Room.

Many excellent voices are ruined, according to a communication which Dr. Weber has made to the French Academie du Medecine, by practicing in too small a room. A public singer must throw every intonation of his voice a distance of 20 or 30 yards, he says, but a student practicing in a small room is only able to throw it a yard or two, and the consequence is that the voice, instead of expanding, becomes telescoped.

THE GREATEST CANAL IN THE WORLD—MAP SHOWING NEW YORK STATE BARGE CANAL AND A PROFILE MAP SHOWING THE VARIOUS LOCKS WHICH RAISE AND LOWER THE STEAMERS—ALSO PICTURE OF THE CANAL IN PROGRESS OF CONSTRUCTION.

There is one canal which holds the center of the stage in American interest today and that is the Panama canal. No far has this overshadowed other navigation projects that the new barge canal in New York state is entirely lost sight of. The facts of the matter are, however, that the state barge canal is quite as interesting and nearly as extensive an undertaking as is the Panama canal itself. The canal reader may remember, after some thought, that there is a canal being built in New York, but it is the general impression that this is merely an enlargement and repainting of the famous old Erie canal. But this is wrong. The new canal is in no sense a repainting or enlarging of the old canal. While it does in certain places utilize parts of the old canal bed for its purpose, it is in the main built entirely independent. The old tow-horse of the last generation is to be superseded by stanch 18,000 ton steamboats each of which is capable of carrying 50,000 bushels of wheat, corn or oats.

The object of the canal is to divert the grain transportation of the middle states and Canada from the St. Lawrence route to this canal which will be shorter and less expensive to the shipper. Their annual produce in this territory is 3,000,000,000 of bushels. The average railway charge for carrying a bushel of grain from Chicago to New York is now 10 to 15 cents. The average cost will be materially lessened so that the shipper will be the recipient of more profits and the consumer will undoubtedly share in this saving.

It is interesting to compare this canal with the gigantic government job at Panama. The Panama canal is to be 49.72 miles in length; the barge canal is to be 422 miles long. The width of the one will be from 200 to 1,000 feet; the other 122 to 160 feet. The Panama canal will be excavated so as to form a channel 30 to 45 feet in depth, while the barge canal will have an average depth of from 12 to 20 feet. There will be seven duplicate locks, each 900 feet long and one great storage reservoir at Panama. There will be 55 locks each 328 feet long in the barge canal. At Panama the estimated amount of excavating is 2,000,000 cubic yards and the barge canal is a close second with 1,750,000 cubic yards. The Panama canal is 60 per cent dirt, while the barge canal is 60 per cent rock. The total cost of the barge canal will be a little over one-third that of the Panama. The 55 locks are each of the latest type of construction known. Each is operated by electrical power generated by its own water wheel.

When the international importance of the two canals is compared the Panama takes precedence, but from an internal improvement point of view the New York state barge canal is one of the greatest undertakings of recent years.

TALISMANS POPULAR IN MALTA.

Odd Shaped Stones to Ward Off Effects of Snake Poison.

There are still to be found in Malta a number of small stones shaped and colored like the eyes, tongues and other parts of serpents.

The superstitions among the Maltese connect these with the tradition that St. Paul when shipwrecked was cast on their island, and that it was there that while lighting a bundle of sticks for a fire a viper fastened on the apostle's hand. St. Paul calmly shook the reptile off into the flames and no harm followed. The natives wear these stones as talismans, in which character they suppose them serviceable in warding off dangers from snake bites and poisons.

They are found in St. Paul's cave, imbedded in clay, and are set in rings and bracelets, and when found to be in the shape of a tongue or liver or heart are hung around the neck. They are also taken internally, dissolved in wine, which method is attended, according to some people, by more immediate results.

EVENING CLASSES

—AT THE—

SOUTHERN WISCONSIN BUSINESS COLLEGE

OPEN MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, AT 7:30

Did you ever stop to think that the successful man or woman in this age is not the man or woman who has the greatest amount of brains, or the keenest intellect, but the man who is a worker and works along lines that have made our present great men successful. These men have first trained their minds for business. If you want to improve your present position qualify yourself by turning to account your spare moments in acquiring a PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

This school is a business school; it knows the principles of successful business and how to prepare young people to be successful. Some of our best young people desire to be successful but, being at work all day, they have not the opportunity presented by our day sessions.

On Sale Thursday Morning at Nine O'clock

Five Lines to Close Out

White Wash Skirts—Six that were $1.35, four that were $1.65, eleven that were $2, three that were $2.25, seven that were $2.75—on sale at 9 o'clock Thursday morning—50 cents.

White Shirt Waist Suits—Twenty-eight plain and dotted Swiss Shirt Waist Suits, both waist and skirt effectively trimmed with lace and embroidery, sold at $4.75; on sale at nine o'clock Thursday morning—$1.25.

Ladies' Spring Wool Suits—Thirty-two suits both in Eton and coat style, fine to make over for common wear; on sale at nine o'clock Thursday morning at $2.50.

Misses' Cravenette Coats—Six that were $5.75, two that were $6.75, four that were $8.75; fitted back coats with belts, just the thing for school wear; on sale at nine o'clock Thursday morning—$2.50.

Misses' Fancy Wool Skirts—Made of check and stripe materials, cut in new shape with wide fold around bottom, lengths 33 to 37 inches; on sale at nine o'clock Thursday morning at $1.50.

Of these five lines there are fair quantities, but early comers will naturally have best selections. In addition there will be some bargains just as good in Waists and a few Coats, but not enough to make special mention of. All of the above mentioned are desirable in every way, and the reason for such ridiculous prices is in line with the policy of not carrying garments from one season to another. It will pay you to make an early trip down town tomorrow (Thursday) morning.

Cement Shingles

Our Cement Roofing Tile are no longer an experiment. They have been thoroughly tested for more than twenty years in Europe. We have had them on a number of buildings for more than a year. They have withstood heat and cold as well as moisture.

If you need a new roof we want you to investigate them. Call at our factory and see our red and green tile. We use nothing but the best imported colors, and make the coloring part of the tile. They will add beauty to your house.

If you have an old leaky roof we will tear off the old wooden shingles, prepare your roof for our tile, and lay the tile, all at the cost of a wooden roof. You will have no bother of any kind. We do the whole job and guarantee it to your entire satisfaction.

We can save you money on your roof if you are building a new house as we do not use roof boards. Regular prices are $6.00 per hundred square feet, but for the next 30 days we will quote a price of $4.00 to better introduce them in Janesville.
